

Dear all,

January 2001 a young girl's life took a turn. from a tiny village in Kiambu county. I was brought to mother's mercy home and there I was made to live like any other child in the outside world with all my needs catered for. I was able to join primary school and later high school. You tirelessly made sure that I never went hungry, lacked descent clothing or lacked school fees. You provided me with a place I could identify with and call home and even guided me to the right path .

It is this place where I got new siblings, both to live with and others who came once in a while as visitors. It has become a home I would want to draw my background to any day of my life. Provoked the sociable girl hidden in me to grow. Through all the challenges that we solved together and all the sweet moments we enjoyed .I still remember the tears on my reintegration from MMH because it has literally become a home I wouldn't want to lose. Bless JKR and CHC for the bond still remains.

5years now after MMH I cannot even explain the opportunities and experience I have had being part of this God given family I have been taken through trainings, conferences and places I never even imagined. All thanks to you, looking back I am beyond gratitude. I am now a young lady currently in my forth year at JomoKenyatta University of science and technology pursuing my passion which is IT and looking forward to a great life ahead all this is thanks to God for using you great people to transform and change my life to the better, you restored a smile back to my face and now I can walk with my head up and shoulders high knowing that there are awesome people in this world who got my back . Thank you for being an important part of my story, thank you for brightening my world."

My prayer to you is that the Lord blesses and keeps you;
The Lord makes His face shine upon you,
And remains gracious to you;
That He lifts up His face upon you,
And gives you peace every day of your life.

Teresiah Wambui.
